Hohman and Sawyer of Oscoda Make Run In 15 Hours, 25 Minutes

Minneapolis, 15 hours, 53 minutes and 52 seconds.

Ken Kolonich, 16, and his father, Steve, 43, both of Tawas City, took fourth place with a canoe time of 16 hours and 52 seconds.

In fifth place were William Staples of St. Johns, and Tom Gilder-sleeve, of Oscoda, 16 hours, 12 minutes and 15 seconds.

This year's run saw the largest increase in outstate participation since its inception in 1947. There were four teams entered from Minnesota and one each from Maine, Wisconsin and Ohio. This year, the race for the first time was run as a two day affair with an overnight stopover at Mio.

The canoe race weekend was a big one in Grayling as well as in Mio and Oscoda. The weekend, locally, began at 12:30 Friday noon at the Chief Shoppenagons Motor Hotel with a luncheon to honor Miss Michigan of 1963, Carole Jean Van Valin of Roscommon. Among the guests at the luncheon and for the festivities in Grayling were: Dick Bradley, director of public relations of Consumers Diverse Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Sawyer and Hohman started in 15th place as Vice President Woodward C. Smith of Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, dropped the official starting flag. In 45 minutes they had edged into first and held the position right

She was then presented with a key to the City of Grayling by City Manager Harry A. Cliff. Later Miss Michigan started in pole position race at Lake Margrethe.

The motorcade back from the lake and the parade down Michigan Avenue was somewhat dulled by a brief rainstorm but was carried on by the crowd. Sunday morning pancake and sausage breakfast put on by the Grayling Kiwanis Club at the Legion Hall

Herbert Wolff presided at the pre-race program and Rev. Colin

Campbell of Grayling's State Fairgrounds in Grand Haven presided the invocation. Appearing on the brief program were: Dick Bradley of Consumers; Norm Frosh, president of Michigan Canoe Racers; and John W. Smith, representative of the Michigan Fish and Game Commission. Also present was Walter Nakula of Gladwin, chairman of the House interim committee on tourism.

Dear Mr. Strong:

It's one of those rare moments now, for I find myself with some free time.

I hope the last letter I wrote and the one to Mr. Fenton will do some good. Because as far as a good, complete educational system goes, Grayling is lacking.

My marks are starting, slowly, to rise. I've had to learn many new ways to study, and I've never thought, or really had to learn at Grayling.

I envy, very much, those here who have had a complete high school education. I realize, of course, that I will just have to work that much harder to make up for the things I never had in high school. I've been doing just that, and I'm starting to get some results.

My doctor may put me back into the hospital, because of a swelling I've been having in my legs. I've had some fear of being discharged because of medical reasons. It seems that this swelling started right after New Cadet Bessie and the Pine Hike.

As far as demerits go, this month I've had none, except for today. Today I was awarded a couple for having rifle cleaning equipment in a boodle (food) container.

I never thought I'd be able to get into the swing of things around here, but it's almost a routine already.

I know of no cadets that actually like West Point. It's not what you imagine it to be, because you see only the parades and colorful parts of West Point. Cadets say "West Point is a heck of a place to be at, but a good place to be from." It's very true, but we all will stick it out, for many various reasons. Personally, I'll never quit, no matter what happens. I've felt like resigning but I see that someone is always getting it worse than I and I don't feel quite as bad. The upperclassmen are very tough on Plebes here, compared to other academies. This is a large number of times tougher.

Sincerely,

Cadet Sherman Neal

Voting Machines In State Aid For Faster Election Returns

MICHIGAN VOTERS enjoy a position unequalled in most states. They are able to hear the results of their polling in a matter of hours after the extensive use of voting machines.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reports the use of automatic voting machines has increased steadily through the years.

This November, only about 355,000 registered voters will have machines at their precincts.

The Eyes Have It

"The old saying goes, 'Seeing is believing', and it was never more true, or vital, than when you're driving."

The armed forces, universities and industry researchers working on cutting down accidents say it is the way many drivers use their eyes that causes them to "miss seeing" oncoming vehicles.

You may have had the experience yourself while pulling out from a parking space, or passing an intersection. Suddenly, as if out of nowhere, another car is just THERE. You thought you looked and yet saw nothing. Your eyes momentarily fooled you.

What happens in such cases is that we use too much of our "peripheral" or side vision instead of looking at the source of danger directly through our clear central vision.

Look directly, left and right, and through the rear view mirror for rear approaches when caution demands it. It's sound practice, too, to keep your eyes moving, especially at night when they have a tendency to stare.

And sight beyond the headlights for shapes if the visibility is poor. And next to your own eyes, watch the eyes of pedestrians and other drivers. They're keys to where they might move unexpectedly.

Safety checks show that almost thirty percent of all headlight accidents are improperly aimed, straining the eyes of oncoming cars and reduced vision for the driver. If you are in doubt about your lights, bring your car in for a check. If they need readjusting, the charge is very nominal.

"Freedom Is Indivisible" . . .

It is an unfortunate fact that many words of wide connotation are so often used, abused and misused as to lose their basic meaning in the minds of great numbers of people. Two of those words are "capitalism" and "socialism." Ask the next man you meet for a definition of them, and it will be a minor miracle if you get a clear answer.

Henry Hazlitt, in one of his Newsweek magazine columns, says something that should be far better understood than it actually is. To quote: "Capitalism is merely the name for a system of economic liberty. Under it civil and political liberties flourish and are secure. Under a complete or nearly complete socialism neither economic nor political liberty can exist. Freedom is indivisible. How can there be freedom of press, speech, or assembly when the government owns all the newspapers, presses, and assembly halls? As Leon Trotsky 'who knew' wrote in 1937: 'In a country where the sole employer is the State, opposition means death by slow starvation. The old principle: Who does not work shall not eat, has been replaced by a new one: Who does not obey shall not eat.'"

One phrase alone, taken from this quotation, sums up the story: "Freedom is indivisible." Without economic freedom there can be no other basic freedom. This is why capitalism, whatever its faults, has done more good for more people, tangibly and intangibly, than any other system yet devised by man.

The Crawford County Health Unit met in the Frederic Town Hall Thursday, October 5, with a good number in attendance. The speaker for this meeting was Dr. C. G. Clippert. His talk on poliomyelitis was interesting and very informative. June Underwood furnished the music for the program, which the group enjoyed immensely. The long tables were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and pine boughs. A delicious lunch was served by the Frederic Unit. These meetings are held the fourth Thursday of every month at the various townships.

Last Friday the local ball field was the scene of the first football game in many years as the Green and White tangled with Roscommon in the 6-man version of the popular fall pastime. This marked the first game for both teams and, as was to be expected, a close hard-fought contest was the result. Grayling received and soon took the lead but Coach Shearer's men came right back to tie the score and then take the lead soon after by some classy football. From there on Roscommon managed to keep Grayling set back on their heels chiefly by means of a short pass over the line. This was changed at the half. The Green and White finally managed to tie the score and then go ahead 19-18. With a minute to go Roscommon was on the 20 yard line and threatening with every play, but in the dying seconds of the game Hull intercepted a pass and ran 87 yards for a touchdown to put the game on ice for the locals.

Dr. C. G. Clippert has just received the following letter: "This is to inform you that you have been officially designated as a medical examiner for the Civil Aeronautics Authority at Grayling, Michigan." In the past local fliers have had to go to Ionia for physical examinations before entering the flying school and after examinations in aeronautics before they can be granted licenses as student pilots and pilots.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

How Valuable Are Love, Trust, Understanding?

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am a girl of fourteen years of age. My parents won't let me do anything.
I thought a family was made of love, trust and understanding.
What does a girl do when she and her parents have none of these—especially trust? Please give me an answer."

OUR REPLY: Are you quite sure, when you say your parents won't let you do anything, that you are not upset over the fact
they won't let you date, stay out late, or do some other things—

which you feel you are old enough to do while they consider you to be too young?

Do you really think that you have no love in your heart for your parents? Or that they do not love you? You think you do not love them because wisdom and experience will not permit them to allow you to do some of the things you would like to do. As you grow older, you will appreciate this evidence of real love more and more. And, you will look about you and see that loving someone does not prescribe that you give them everything their heart desires or let them do everything in the world that pleases them. If you love someone, you care what happens to them. If they are young, you have to protect them from their own eger-

ness and inexperience.

If the above is true, surely you should "trust" your parents to do what is best for you. Now what about their "trust" in you? Can you think of any good reason why they should trust you? Have you shown them any great evidence of maturity and reliability? Trust,
like love, is a give-and-take proposition. Trouble comes when it's one-sided.

And understanding? Stop thinking about what you would like to do, what you want to do, etc.—and just for a moment try to understand that your parents have an obligation and a responsibility to a girl who is fourteen years of age.

If you have a teenage problem you want to solve, or an observation to make, address your letter to

THE BIG WHEELS — Everyone familiar with northern Michigan has heard of the "big wheels". Not too many people around now ever saw them in use. The above photo loaned to the Avalanche by Mrs. O. M. Michelson of Birmingham and summer resident of Lake Margrethe shows the big wheels in action in a lumbering camp near Grayling. The wheels were used to bring the huge pine logs to the banking areas during times of the year when there wasn't snow on the ground to skid the logs. Some idea of the size of the wheels can be gained by noting the men standing by the load of nine huge logs.

smooths bumps better than a bulldozer

If all roads were superhighways, Chevrolet's remarkably smooth and silent ride might be just another luxury. But as most town and country roads will demonstrate, this is one Chevrolet advantage that's mighty easy to get excited about. (The way those four deep-coil springs put the kibosh on bumps, you'd almost think Chevrolet was working for the highway commission.) The '63 Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Impalas are equally easy going on upkeep. Brakes are self-adjusting. New Delcotron generator s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s battery life. Even the rocket panels on the Body by Fisher are self-washing and ventilating to cut down on rust. Your dealer's waiting to tell you lots more.

expenditure of time and money is made gladly for one purpose only—the benefit of the patient.

What is unique about the Commission's accreditation program is that it is entirely voluntary. There is no law or regulation that says a hospital must seek accreditation. It is a decision, voluntarily made by the individual hospital. But, because hospitals are conscientiously working to improve the quality of their services, more and more institutions are seeking to earn accreditation.

Though the scope of the services a hospital offers varies, an accredited hospital must conform to Commission standards in every area in which it functions. In other words, everything the hospital does, it must do well.

The standards set up by the Commission are those that medical and hospital authorities consider necessary to insure high quality medical care.

To the community, the knowledge that a hospital is accredited should be a source of pride.

Michigan was presented by Virginia King on behalf of the children of Grayling's east side.

The Grayling Steering Committee which joined with the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce to sponsor the big weekend wishes to extend hearty thanks to those merchants who offered these fine gifts as well as to those whose donations made possible the appearance of Miss Michigan in Grayling. The committee, who sponsored the extra curricular activities while the Chamber concentrated on the big race, also wish to compliment Mr. and Mrs. John Ludeman of Camp Shoppemagon who for the 10 years have donated trophies for the junior boys race.

The committee also appreciates the work of Grayling High bandmaster LeRoy Christian and the downpour which nevertheless failed to dampen the high spirits of the crowd.

Further thanks to Mrs. Harold Dykema for the lovely table decorations for the luncheon and to Mrs. John Letuszok and Mrs. Robert Strong for aid in collection of donations. The Grayling City Police did a splendid job in handling traffic on both days and were of inestimable assistance in Friday's parade as well as Saturday's.
